FAIR MOVED UP A DAY BY BOARD

Because First Day Was Spoiled by Rain, There Will be an Extra Day's Attraction.

RACES ADVANCED A DAY

Other Program Will be Carried Out as Previously Announced. However—Fireworks Tonight.

The Rush county fair has been moved up a day because the first day's program could not be given,
which means that there will be fair
on Saturday.

The fair board reached this decision this morning when it announced that Tuesday's race program would be run today and today's program Wednesday, thus moving up each day's racing so that Friday's races will be held on Saturday. The board is anxious to run off all the races this year because of the high quality and large number of horses here.

The awards will be made in show classes as scheduled, there being no change made in that respect. This means that the big parade of premium stock will take place Friday as usual.

The night fair tonight will be the same as that advertised for Tuesday night. There will be a display of fireworks and other attractions.

The crowds began going this afternoon and there were indications that the crowd would be above normal for Wednesday. The rains of yesterday made threshing impossible and it was thought that many farmers would come today for that reason.

Although the track was a bit slow, it was not in as bad condition as fair officials feared it would be because of the heavy rains of Tuesday. There was some hot competition expected in the 2:15 class, pacing, this afternoon, as it is the first of the four races for purses of five hundred dollars.

It was also announced by the fair board that all family tickets and other special tickets issued for the week would be good on the added day of the fair.

Although the clouds flirted with the sun most of the day, there was no rain and the grounds dried off rapidly. The weather man promised a continuation of the low temperature and fair weather.

The free attractions consisting of high dives daily in front of the grandstand and a concert each morning at eleven o'clock and one in the evening at eight will be held as advertised.

The Rev. J. R. Stanton has been returned as pastor of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church by the Indiana conference of the church which closed its sessions in Jonesboro Monday.

Make the Dealer Test

Mr. Manufacturer you are frequently told that this or that kind of advertising will interest or influence local dealers.

That is something very essential to the sale of your product.
You are wise in seeking it.

But why not consult the dealer on the subject?

Ask one hundred dealers what kind of advertising they prefer and ninety-five per cent will answer advertising in the newspapers of their own city.

This newspaper advertising influences them because it cre-

British Order Placing Cotton on Contraband Arrives.

Berlin, August 25.—General Mackensen has broken through the advance positions of Brest Litovsk.

One wing of Mackensen's army is approaching the western bank of the Mesna. North of Brest Litovsk the Bavarians are continuing the movement to envelop the fortress.

In the north the armies under Generals Von Hindenberg, Von Gall-witz and Von Scholtz are hurling the Slavs back upon a line extending southward from Vilna.

ONE ADMITS GUILT; TWO NOT GUILTY

Jesse Sorrell, Elmer Hendricks and Harry Rainey in Jail Result of Fight

STAGED AT FAIR GROUNDS

A drunken fight at the fair grounds Tuesday night landed Harry Rainey, Jesse Sorrell and Elmer Hendricks in jail. Rainey pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication this morning before Mayor Bebout and was fined $5 and costs. The other two men were charged with intoxication and assault and battery.
Both entered pleas of not guilty and were sent back to jail to await their trial, set for tonight at seven-thirty o'clock.

Just what the fight started over is not known. It was stated this morning that the men had some trouble with a owner of a stand. The man is colored, but the police did not learn his name. Sheriff Cavitt was called to the grounds when it was learned that the police there were unable to handle the situation. Hendricks received a bad cut on the forehead and the services of a physician were required when he was taken to the county jail.

POSTOFFICE AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Mail is Accepted and Delivered From the Office Where Parcels Post Display is Made.

IN AGRICULTURAL HALL

There is a full fledged postoffice in operation at the fair grounds in connection with the parcels post display arranged by Postmaster G. P.
Hunt and his assistants. When it was first decided to make an exhibit to interest mail patrons in parcels post, at the suggestion of the department at Washington, it was announced that no postoffice would be run in connection, but plans were later changed and mail is being accepted and delivered at the fair grounds office.

The postoffice is located in agricultural hall. Persons on the fair grounds have been informed of the convenience arranged for them and they all take their mail there and do not have to go to the trouble of bringing it to Rushville. All mail for the fair grounds is taken to the postoffice there and held until called for. The display of parcels post will interest many people, it is believed. Stamps and postal cards are also on sale at the fair grounds office.

TAX LEVY LEFT SAME FOR 1916

Some Changes Are Made, However, in Distribution of Funds, More Money Going to General Fund.

GIVES CHANCE FOR OILING

Library Board Asks For One Cent
More and it is Granted—Fire Department Gets $500

The tax levy for the year 1916 remains at $1.15 on each $100 of taxables. All efforts to create interest in the proposition to change the levy fell flat and the city council at the special meeting Tuesday night voted unanimously to fix the levy at $1.15.

Some changes were made, however, in the distribution of the levy among the various funds. The tax levy of $1.15 was divided as follows: ninety-six cents for the general fund; thirteen cents for the payment of bonded indebtedness and six cents for the library.

The levy last year was divided as follows: general fund, seventy-six cents; bonded indebtedness thirty-four cents and library tax five cents.

The library board asked for an additional appropriation of one cent this year and as the law provides that the library can ask up to ten cents there was nothing for the council to do but grant the increase.
Twenty cents additional in the general fund for the year 1916 may mean that the city can oil the streets out of this fund although the matter was not mentioned last night.
The coming year the city will have less bonds and interest to pay. A cut of twenty-one cents was made in this levy and twenty cents of this amount was placed in the general fund and the additional one cent was given to the library.

In the appropriation ordinance a few changes were made over last year. An additional $500 was given to the fire department. The appropriations as compared to last year are as follows:

	1915	1916
Salaries	$ 4,889	$ 4,880
Fire department	3,500	4,000
Water and Light	24,000	24,000
Street department	7,000	7,000
Board of Health	300	500
Sewer contract	7.50	7.50
Bond indebtedness
and interest	10,977.36	3,700
Street and sidewalk
intersections	500	2,500
Miscellaneous	250	250
Express and postage		150
Clerk's supplies		100
Treasurer's supplies		100
Mayor's office		150
Department of law		300
Special judge		50

The preliminary assessment role for the paving of West Second street was approved and remonstra-tors will be given a hearing on October 5. The total cost of the improvements in the Stewart Tompkins additions were adopted and remonstrances will be heard on September 10.

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 25.—New feminine and even masculine voices greeted patrons of a number of telephone exchanges in central Indiana today. It was because practically all of the telephone girls were at the one day operators school here. The school was conducted by the Nation-

DELEGATES ARE ARRIVING TODAY

Over Half Hundred Registered For Kappa Alpha Phi Convention
During the Morning.

CANDIDATES ADVERTISING

Each Comes With an Arm Full of Placards Advancing Their Various Claims For Office.

With fifty delegates registered at noon today, the fourteenth annual national convention of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity got under way.
The start was auspicious and the prospects for the best convention the fraternity ever had are very bright.

The first event of the convention is scheduled for tonight when the reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Capp. Following the reception the visitors will dance at the Elks pavillion at the fair grounds. The visitors were coming into the city all afternoon and by evening the visiting delegations were expected to reach the hundred mark.

The headquarters at the Windsor were crowded all day where the delegates register. As was predicted, fraternity politics promises to be one of the most interesting things of the entire convention.

Candidates for offices in the fraternity started an active campaign just as soon as they reached the city. The first of the candidates to arrive was G. Walter Ratcliffe, of Newcastle, who wants to be vice-president. A delegation of boosters from Newcastle arrived here with Ratcliffe and they at once proceeded to plaster up the town with posters,
"Rats for Vice-president."

Along with Ratcliffe came Monk Purviance of Huntington, who seeks to be elected to the office of secretary. Purviance is endorsed by Pat McCarty, also of Huntington, who first announced he would run for this office. McCarty withdrew from the race and endorsed Purviance. Purviance also has his posters and he is as widely advertised as Ratcliffe.

Clyde Snody of Bloomington has announced that he will be a candidate for recorder. Bloomington also has another candidate, Glenn B.
Woodward is out for treasurer. The fight for the next convention is expected to be between Bloomington and Greensburg, with Bloomington the favorite in the betting.

The Greensburg delegation boosting for Ernest Erdmann for president was expected here this evening. The fight for president is expected to be between Kenneth Sullivan of Alexandria and Erdmann.

The first business session of the convention will be held tomorrow morning in the assembly room of the court house. The annual dance will take place Thursday night at the Social club and the convention will end with the banquet Friday night at the Windsor.

DENY RUSSIAN CLAIMS OF VICTORY

Germany Says Warships, Cruisers
And Torpedo Boats Were Not Sunk in Gulf of Riga

PROBABLY SUNK PURPOSELY

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Aug. 25.—Russian claims that the German dreadnaught Moltke two cruisers and eight torpedo boats were sunk in a battle in the Gulf of Riga, were declared to be without foundation, in an official statement issued by the admiralty today.

The admiralty stated that the "German warships" mentioned probably were some old vessels sunk by the Germans themselves to barricade the entrance to the gulf and bottle up the Russian squadron. Some of these vessels had previously been captured from the Russians, the statement said.

"Neither a large ship or any German cruisers was sunk or damaged," continued the admiralty. "We silenced land batteries near Parnau."

M. L. M'BRIDE IS DEAD AT MAYS HOME

President of Mays National Bank Expires Today of Cancer Following prolonged illness.

FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING

Matthew L. McBride, 65 years old, a widely known resident of Center township and president of the Mays bank, died this morning at 1:30 o'clock, following an illness of several months from cancer. Mr. Mc-Bride recently underwent an operation in Indianapolis, but it failed to improve his condition and since that time he had been in a critical condition.

Mr. McBride was a native of Henry county. He was born February 7, 1850, at Ogden. He received his education at the Center school and on October 16, 1879, he was married to Mary B. Gilson, a daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Washington Gilson. Mr.
McBride was a successful farmer and business man and when the Mays bank was organized he was selected as president of the institution.

Mr. McBride is survived by his widow, three brothers, Will M. Mc-Bride of this city, Charley McBride of Mays and Frank McBride, four sisters, Mrs. Marshall Reeves of Columbus, Mrs. Jefferson Reeves of near this city, Mrs. Maria Fry of Texas, and Mrs. Samuel Cohee of Mays.

The funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Center church and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

Christian H. Graver has filed suit on a note against Herman Thomas demanding $125.

DEPICTS LIFE IN THE TRENCHES

Dolph Ryan, Son of the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Ryan of Glenwood, is Driving Ambulance in France.

HAS BEEN THERE SINCE JUNE

Sees Suffering at First Hand as Maimed Soldiers Are Mauled to Hospitals Near the Lines.

The Rev. Daniel Ryan, pastor of the Glenwood M. E. church, is in receipt of a letter from his son, Dolph Ryan, who has been at the war front in France since June as the driver of an American Red Cross ambulance.

He describes some of the horrors of trench life, having had opportunity to observe it. He drives his car within two hundred yards of the trenches to receive the wounded and haul them to emergency hospitals and later to central hospitals in the larger towns of France.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ryan did not know their son was going to the front until after he was aboard a vessel on the way over. He arrived in France June 22 and is now stationed near Dunkirk.

"This war is an awful thing," he writes. "Father has been through it.
He knows what it means. Things are different now, to be sure, but just the same men who are not killed outright suffer."

"Because they can't have hospitals up close to the trenches, for they would shell them, so they have to have them away back, and when a poor man is shot, if it is in the daytime, he must be kept in the trenches suffering until nightfall.
Then they bring them out and back about two hundred yards and we get them and take them back a mile or so the doctors can fix them without being shot. In a day or two they are taken to Paris or any other town in France where there is a big hospital."

"So you can see how the poor fellows suffer. Some of them die before there is a chance to remove them from the trenches and some die in your car. It is an awful thing—this war, but I am glad to come over here and help what I can."

"They are fighting hard on each side and I sure dread the time when the French and English start to drive the Germans back. All this time the Germans have been making trenches so that in case their men are driven back, and which they surely will, and I hope soon."

"They will poison the water, put powder under the ground and then when the other soldiers are in their old trenches, blow them to pieces.
Those Germans will do anything."

"I will send you some godo pictures as soon as I can. I came to D— last Saturday and have had a good rest here. I go out again tomorrow and stay out at the trenches for thirty days. Then you come for a little rest for a week. I sleep out in my ambulance and eat outdoors all the time, which makes me feel fine, but see some awful sights when I have to carry some of the poor fellows, some of them shot all to pieces. Father knows just how it is.
He had four years of it."

In closing Mr. Ryan says that he can not write much, else the letter would never reach its destination.
He asks his parents to ask God to "help these poor soldiers who are being killed by the thousands every week."

NOTHING TO DO BUT WAIT ON GERMANY

Official Washington Expects Explanation From Berlin When Latter Gets Report.

IT MAY BE ONE OR TWO WEEKS

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.

Washington, August 25.—“We are waiting” was all government officials had to say today concerning the Arabic case. The United States awaited word from Germany. Germany awaited word from her submarine commanders. It was deemed likely this might continue for a week or two.

Secretary Lansing said he couldn't say whether he would answer the German request through Ambassador Bernstorff that the United States suspend judgment until Germany was heard from officially. The outlook was viewed everywhere most optimistically.

PROPOSES NOT TO OIL A SECOND TIME

Walter Reinheimer, Contractor, Says

it Can Not be Put on if Wet Weather Continues.

WOULD SAVE $400 FOR PEOPLE

If the rains continue during the next few weeks as they have in the past, the taxpayers of the city may save some money on the street oiling this year, as it will be practically impossible to give the streets the second coat of oil as provided in the contract.

Walter Reinheimer, the contractor, appeared before the council Tuesday night with a proposition that the second coat not be placed on the streets and that the money thus saved be pro-rated back to the taxpayers. No action was taken as the council desired to see how the weather man performed in the next few weeks.

It was stated that the second coat of oil could not be placed on the streets with continued wet weather. The cost for the second coat would be about $400 and this amount would be taken off the cost to the property owners. Reinheimer wanted the council to think over the proposition as the assessment role must be made up before Nov. 1.

PLAN FOR BANQUET WITHOUT SPEECHES

Tuberculosis Society Believes Talk is Not Effective in Fighting Disease

CONFERENCE IN INDIANAPOLIS

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25.—The after dinner speech with its musty jokes is too inefficient for those fighting tuberculosis. They prefer the short snappy and to-the-point discussions. They plan a speechless banquet as one of the features of the three day meeting of the Mississippi Valley conference of Tuberculosis, which will come to Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1.

Vice president Marshall is slated as toastmaster, and at the "speakers" tables will be the visiting governors, and other celebrities, including James Whitecomb Riley.

If those at the "speakers" table have a message to deliver, they will have it printed on the menu. All those at the table will be introduced at once by A. W. Jones, Jr., of St. Louis, President of the conference, so that conversation will supplant oratory.

It is estimated by W. D. Thurber, secretary of the conference, that tuberculosis each year in the Mississippi Valley kills 100,000 men, women and children, and that approximately 500,000 victims are infected with the disease. Thurber expects an attendance at the conference of about 1,000.

DISLIKES USE OF BUTTER TRAYS

Government Calls Attention to Fact That They Cost The Nation $5,000,000 Annually

WEIGHED IN WITH THE ORDER

If you have been buying butter that is weighed in one of those small wooden dishes, or lard or sausage or anything else that the dealer places in a wooden receptacle before weighing the same, you have contributed your mite to the $5,000,000 that the consumers of this country pay for such things annually.

The United States government is sending broadcast to superintendents of national, state, municipal and county departments of weights and measures are annually defrauded out of five millions of dollars or more through the sale of wood and paper and wood pulp at the sale price of butter, lards and meats.

Butchers and grocers come in for the greater part of this condemnation by the government. They have the habit, when a consumer asks to buy a pound of butter or of lard, of setting the wooden dish on the scales and then filling it with the merchandise ordered. Of course, the wooden container weighs only a few ounces but the aggregate weight of the few ounces all over the country amounts to at least five million dollars each year, even by estimating the article sold at a minimum rate.

Who's Going to Pay?

The ordinary expenses of the United States government this fiscal year will amount to $800,000,000. The ordinary expenses of the government during the fiscal year ending June 30 were $733,234,720. The entire revenue of the fiscal year of 1914-1915 was but $695,663,190.42. Therefore, where is that deficit of nearly $105,000,000 coming from?

But that is not the all absorbing question in the minds of Democratic administration leaders just now. President Wilson has several ideas which he will present to Congress and which will involve the expenditure of more millions. Men who have been in close touch with the situation say there will be no other solution to the Democratic dilemma, which is due to a bad domestic policy and mis-management, but a bond issue.

The President's pet schemes will require about $500,000,000. For new battle ships $50,000,000; submarines, $20,000,000; airships, $5,000,000; coast defenses, $20,000,000; rural credits, $50,000,000; purchase of ships for merchant marine, $50,000,000; increase of the army, $150,000,000; sop to Colombia; $25,000,000; and to these $50,000,000; must be added for the Alaskan railroad. The cost of operating the parcels post will run up into millions over its receipts.

The deficit in ordinary expenses of $105,000,000, together with the $500,000,000, which it is calculated the president's schemes will cost, bring the grand total up to $605,000,000.

On the other hand the emergency or "war tax" empire by limitation December next. That and the corporation and income taxes have all been paid in, and not much more can be expected from those sources until next June if they are received. Receipts from customs duties are rapidly decreasing, and the same is true of the ordinary revenues from tobacco and spirits. To meet the current expenses alone an increase of more than $150,000,000 in the revenue must be provided. This will puzzle the Democrats in the House and Senate, without counting the trouble they will have in making up a sufficiency to meet the extra demands the President will make.

Wood Alcohol—Poison!

Despite unceasing endeavor to prohibit the sale of wood alcohol, this poisonous article is still used in the manufacture of quack medicines, hair-tonics, cheap whiskey, essences etc., and every now and then some innocent person is killed or made blind from its effects according to the Journal of the American Medical Association. Recently three persons died and two others were made completely blind from drinking a cordial made partly of wood alcohol. It is not generally known that poisonous symptoms follow its external application, as well as from taking it into the stomach. Thus rubbing the body with it after Turkish or other baths, burning it in "alcohol lamps" using it for varnishing pianos, beer-vats, small rooms, etc., may induce slow and often unsuspected but serious damage to the digestion, sight and nervous system. The manufacturers of wood alcohol have succeeded in removing the unpleasant odor and taste, disguising it in this way to facilitate its sale; but its poisonous properties are still there, and this "deodorized" alcohol under whatsoever name is may be called should not be purchased for domestic use. It should be the self imposed duty of every citizen not only to abstain from using the poison himself, but to use his influence in bringing about a law to stop its manufacture and sale. All preparations containing this ingredient should be put in the list of poisons, and labeled with the skull and crossbones.

***** What Our Neighbors Are Talking About *****

Current Comments*Inconsistency Noted.

(Washington, Ind., Herald.)

George W. Lott, the Vincennes progressive who is stubbornly determined to continue his part of the annex to the Democratic party, in suing to set aside the Indiana state-wide primary law is an illuminating example of the political reformers who will have no reform unless they may have it entirely their own way. As a leading bull moose, Mr. Lott advocated general primaries. The primary election system was one of the "principles" of the bull moose party. Yet here the first chance the state of Indiana has to make an experiment with general primaries, one of the shouting followers of Mr. Roosevelt is trying to put the law out of commission through act of the courts.

Mr. Lott's objections to the law as it stands may be technically well-founded. He enumerates a great many items that he declares are antagonistic to the provisions and restrictions of the constitution. Perhaps they are. But think of a true bull moose that would let the constitution get in the way of the people and their right to do as they please despite antiquated statutes, obsolete customs and archaic constitutions! Why, Mr. Lott, that is treason, not only to the colonel but to the Honorable Albert Jeremiah!

The state-wide primary law in Indiana probably is unconstitutional. We know it is a jumble of contradictions and absurdities. It not only is unconstitutional, but it including the theory upon which it is founded, like-wise is an impeachment of common sense. Nevertheless, it has the vital quality of a general primary law, the bestowing upon the people of the people of the ower to make their nominations for office without the intervention of conventions. The law is not ideal, from the point of view of the radical advocates of the primary election theory, but it does give the voters the right to vote direct for the aspirants for nominations.

Mr. Lott's objections to this law, therefore, are inconsequential. The restrictions of which he complains do not defeat the main purpose of the law. It is a poor law, but it is sufficiently clear and comprehensive enough to give the people of Indiana a chance to test out the state-wide primary plan of making nominations. Then if the system appeals to them as a feasible method of choosing their nominees, it will be an easy matter to amend the law in the next legislature and relieve it of its objectionable features.

If Mr. Lott, as a believer in primary elections, were honest with himself, he never would have filed this suit. At its worst, which is saying a great deal, it at least holds in it the essential element of the primary dogma. Except in the matter of choosing a half-dozen or so of an important state administrative officers, it eliminates delegates nominating conventions and thereby destroys representative party government, which is the first and the chief purpose of the general primary.

PIGEON ROOST MASSACRE

One of the tragic events connected with early Indiana History is that of Pigeon Roost Massacre. Incited by the British outbreak of the war of 1812, the Indians again went on the warpath. On September 2, 1812, they attacked the isolated Pigeon Roost Settlement in Scott county and practically destroyed it. Twenty-four people were massacred, sixteen of whom were children.

When night came two men, one woman and five children escaped through the forest to tell the sorrowful story.

TWO MEN ACT AS NIGHTWATCHMAN

Jerry Sullivan Refuses to Give up
Brother's Job And Roy Snyder
Also Claims It

PETITION BEARS 82 NAMES

A nice mix-up is promised among the merchants over who is to be nightwatchman. Tuesday night two men were on the job. Jerry Sullivan, brother of the late Frank Sullivan, who held the position refuses to give up the job, claiming that he holds it for the estate of his brother. Roy Snyder presented a petition to Mayor Bebout containing the names of 82 merchants, stating that they desired Snyder to have the position.

Mayor Bebout believed this constituted the majority and gave Snyder the necessary police powers. The nightwatchman is employed by the merchants and all the city can do is to give the man thus employed the necessary police powers. It is claimed that the late Frank Sullivan paid $400 for the position and this is the amount demanded by the Sullivans. It is understood that Snyder is ready to pay the price, but they do not seem disposed to give him the position being inclined, it is stated, to give it to someone whom they may name.

Snyder will continue on duty and it is supposed that Sullivan will also make the rounds. Jerry Sullivan has no police powers. Jerry now claims to want the position for himself and states that the merchants have never given him his release by asking for the keys. It is understood that he will continue to work until relieved by the merchants.

INTEREST IS SHOWN IN GAME

Large Delegation of Greensburg Fans Coming For Game Here With Rushers Sunday.

CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Rushville Will Use Regular Lineup and Jack Reiss Will Pitch—Want Good Weather.

Considerable interest is shown in the game Sunday between the Rushers and the Greensburg team. It has been several years since these two cities met on the diamond. Greensburg fans are predicting success for their team and are coming in large numbers for the game.

The Rushville team will lineup the same as in the past. Jack Reiss will pitch the game for Rushville. It has been so long since the team was seen in action that the game Sunday should be like the opening game of the season. Rain for the past four Sundays has knocked the Rushers out and they hope to make up for lost time Sunday at the expense of Greensburg.

Several well known ball players are in the lineup. Benz their third baseman is a brother of the famous Joe Benz, Chicago White Sox, pitcher. Darmondy or Minor will do the pitching for the Greensburg crew. The following from the Greensburg News will be of interest to the fans here:

When the Greensburg team that is to wrestle with the Rushville champions on Sunday, get into action on the Rush county diamond, our neighbor to the north may expect defeat, for the "local wrecking crew" are making the jaunt with the express determination of blasting Rush county fans' hopes.

It is recognized here that Rushville has a fast ball team, and in view of that fact, the local aggregation has strengthened for the coming conflict. As Greensburg and Rushville have not met in a baseball encounter since the days when C. J. Loyd had a winning team here, and we used to wallop the Rush county lads in great style, this coming event of next Sunday promise to be a drawing card for the fans of two counties. The probable lineup of Greensburg will be as follows:

Bloemer, catcher; Hess, 1st base; Dronberger, 2d base; Clark, ss; Benz, 3d base; Favors, lf; Pohlman, cf; Wentz or Hess, rf; Darmondy or Minor, pitcher.

POSTAL INSURANCE IS MADE CHEAPER

New Order From Postmaster General Also Increases Values Which May be Insured.

EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 1

Postmaster General A. S. Burleson is sending out to the various postoffices a bulletin stating some changes in the insurance rates on mail matter which will go into effect September 1. The local office has received the bulletin and is ready to adopt the changes required as soon as September 1 comes.

The chief change is a reduction in rates and an increase in values which may be insured. Heretofore five cents was the cheapest rate for postal insurance. Now any value higher than fifty dollars could be insured. No value up to one hundred dollars may be insured. The section of the postal laws as amended reads:

"Fourth class mail matter shall not be registered, but may be insured against loss in an amount equivalent to its actual value, but not to exceed $25 on payment of a fee of five cents; not to exceed $50 on payment of a fee of 10 cents; or not to exceed $100 on payment of a fee of 25 cents, in addition to the postage, both to the prepaid by stamps affixed; but indemnity will not be allowed in cases of loss of such mail addressed to the Philippine Island, unless the loss occurred in the postal service of the United States."

O. B. HAS ITS EYE GLUED ON FEDS

Watching Closely to See How Ten Cent Baseball Takes With Fans Around Circuit

ALL AGREE IT A BUM SEASON

Move is Not Considered Likely Because There Are Too Many High Priced Ball Players

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Aug. 25.—Organized baseball has its eye glued to the knothole. The knothole is about the size of a dime in the Federal fence. O. B. is mightily interested in knowing how many ten-cent baseball fans there are in these United States.

Ever since Jim Gilmore kicked his entire collection of hats into the ring O. B.'s clockers have been working diligently in the various Federal yards. Why should O. B. be so mightily interested? It hasn't been many moons since Ban Johnson was tuning up his bassos for the Fed's funeral dirge.

The reason is apparent—O. B. has come to the realization that something is the matter with baseball, and there are enough good business heads in O. B.'s ranks to want to find out what it is. So its going to see if Dr. Gilmore has properly diagnosed the case, Dr. Gilmore's diagnosis being the dear old public is tired of paying big prices to see games.

That, however, raises a question in the minds of a lot of baseball men as to what the Johnson-Tener combine will do if it ultimately finds that the Fed's are right. With high salaries, high running expenses, high cost of equipment and various other high departments the business end of baseball, can O. B. exhibit its wares to the fans at a dime a throw? A careful canvass of opinions outside the ranks of either of the warring faction reveals few who think it can. That is, unless something is out—either the players' salaries or the magnates' divvy. There are a lot of baseball clubs losing money this year with the two-bits minimum.

Close to one thousand fans would have to crowd into the Detroit park every day—at 10 cents a hear—to pay Tyrus Cobb's salary for that day, because Tyrus gets paid at the rate of nearly one hundred dollars per diem. And Sam Crawford, Bobby Veach, Jean Dubuc, George Dauss, Ownie Bush and a dozen other players are getting good salaries.

On the same basis, 300,000 fans would have to pass through the turnstiles at the Polo Grounds in a season to pay the yearly salary of John McGraw. Mr. McGraw is popularly supposed to be drawing down $30,000 for his labors with the Giants. And Christy Mathewson, Larry Doyle, Fred Merkle and Hans Lobert are not working for their health.

The Fed's have practically the same payroll, taking all the players into consideration. Cy Falkenberg is pulling $7,500 yearly, Bennie Kauff is getting about the same, Joe Tinker gets a lot more than either of them, so does Hal Chase, Leo Megee and a score of other big men in the third league outfit.

The Fed's haven't made any money this year. Jim Gilmore says they didn't expect to—that the Federal League backers don't care to as they are in baseball for sport Mr. Gilmore, undoubtedly, is trying to kid himself.

It has been suggested by O. B. adherents that the Fed's' 10-cent ante is the dying gurgle of the third circuit—that it is the last frenzied sputter to get out with their skins whole. This gets a laugh from the other side of the fence. The real reason isn't apparent to those on the outside.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable calomel" because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "Sentinel" tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream—as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If made, if made, if made, it there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only set about a dined with the stomach, one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

"Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

MAY CONTROL SCHOOL EXCUSES

State Board of Truancy Has Right to Lay Down Rules Regarding Tardiness and Absences.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS SO

May Compel Parents or Guardians to Furnish Children With Books or Make Showing.

Richard M. Milburn, attorney-general, has given an opinion to Amos W. Butler, secretary of the new state board of truancy, in which it is declared the board has the right to prescribe rules governing the excuse of children who are tardy or absent from schools in the state. Written excuses from parents, guardians or custodians of the children may be required by such rules, the opinion said.

The opinion also gave the board the right to interpret the word "attendance" as used in the law creating the board, by saying that the board may either require parents or guardians of children to supply them with proper school books or may compel the parents to make such showing to the township that books will be supplied the children. In the past some parents neither would give proper books to their children nor make a showing of poverty to the township, on which the trustee could provide adequate school books.

The attorney-general gave an opinion to Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, in which it was asserted that where school corporations turn over their holdings to townships, the township trustee must fulfill all contracts made by such school corporations, such as those hiring teachers in the schools. Unless such contracts are fulfilled, the transfer of the children and the schools is not legal, the opinion said, in effect.

In another opinion to Greathouse, who is a member of the new board which administers the new law relating to the state teachers' pension funds, the attorney-general said the new law provides for cities taking advantage of the state law and turning over all money or property owned by the local pension fund to the state fund. Objection had been made to this by local pension corporations, the attorney-general said, but he pointed out that the law creating the state pension scheme provides for the taking over of local funds and also that annuities and benefits, paid under the local funds, likewise shall be paid from the state funds. The rates of assessment also probably will be lower under the state pension scheme, the attorney-general pointed out, so that the beneficiaries of the local pension systems which come under the state scheme will not lose thereby.

Although the new law provides that no payments shall be made from the state pension fund until after January 1, 1917, the attorney-general said that annuities or benefits being paid in local pension schemes would continue without interruption if the local schemes took advantage of the state law's provisions.

THINK ENGLISH ARE SHIRKING

French Are Bold in Saying That England is Not Doing All She Can in The War

ADMIT POWER OF HER FLEET

But Call Attention to Fact That She is Holding Only 30 Miles of Front—French Hold 500.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Aug. 6 (By Mail)—Everybody in France knows it, so why try to keep it a secret; France is not at all satisfied with what England has done and is doing in this war, and Englishmen in France, soldiers as well as sojourner's admit France is right.

And now come stories by private conveyance from Great Britain that London is being fortified with a couple of rows of defenses running entirely around the city; that the English are saying "one never can tell what will happen," that they admit lack of ammunition and will continue to lack it even under best possible conditions for some months to come; that if the Germans make a dash for Calais and the other Channel ports with forces such as she is using around Warsaw, there will be no stopping them at present.

What do all these stories mean? the French are asking. What is the matter with England? Why can't she with all her steel mills and kindred works, turn out much more than sufficient ammunition, enough, in fact, to supply her allies?

"Strikes have hampered us," Englishmen in France give as an excuse for many of these questions.

"Why tolerate strikes?" the French ask impatiently, "when the life of England hangs in the balance with our own and that of several other countries perhaps as well?"

Now, with fall almost at hand, England is still holding with great effort at that, her little 30 miles of front. The French hold 500 miles. In the 11 months of trench-fighting this proportion has not changed and many has been the time when French artillery has been called upon to support the British even along their short front.

Gabriel Hanotaux, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, a historian and unusually calm thinker, has said.

"From England there have come illusionary catchwords on which we have lived for months and which after benefiting us for a moment, have ended by doing us harm—Was is not Lord Kitchener who evolved that formula so pregnant with hope but so tardy in delivery: 'Our forces will continue to expand unceasingly while those of the enemy will unceasingly diminish.'"

Hanotaux did not express this criticism of England in private, or behind England's back. He said it in print, to England's face. Nor is that all he said. "The English Ministers were prodigal of magnificent phrases," he writes, "but their workshops were idle."

I asked an Englishman why England still held only her 30-mile front why Kitchener's promise of more and more and still more soldiers has not been made good. His reply, in effect, was that Kitchener himself had made good his promise. He had raised the soldiers.

"There are three million soldiers or thereabouts in England," he said "But they are equipped with wooden guns!"

So admitted my English friend.

"There are men a plenty," he went on, "but they lack belts, knapsacks and the like. And of the thousands and thousands of recruits one sees drilling around London daily, very few have rifles. They are using the sticks used before the war in Ulster with other imitations made since."

The French wholeheartedly admit that England furnished the broom which was largely instrumental in sweeping German ships and German commerce from the seas.

"But French ships have not been idle either," they declare. "We have kept the Austrian fleet cooped up all winter and we have done all we could with the fleet in other directions. All we ask: 'Has England like ourselves, done all she is able to do.'"

No doubt France and England will stand together without faltering right on through to the end, but now there is no doubt about it; more than at any time since hostilities commenced, France is inclined to ask England to get a move on, to quit squabbling at home and get into the fight. For every hour the war is prolonged means many lives snapped off.

Not the least part of the resentment in France is caused by British insularity, in England, Georges Clemenceau, the former Prime Minister, writes, "After all Calais is only Calais!" Calais is in France a foreign country. The measures taken around London are an admission that Calais and Boulogne may fall into German hands. The French feel that if England does her duty the thing won't happen.

So the French not only think, but speak.

Note—Simms sent a copy of the above to Ed L. Keen, London correspondent. Tomorrow Keen's statement of the British reply.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS IN RUSHVILLE, IND.

All property owners who have taken the benefit of the Barrett Law for Sidewalk, Curb, Gutter, Return-Curb, or Sewer improvement, are hereby notified that the Fall Assessment is due and payable at the City Treasurer's Office, Room 1, Court House, on or before November 1, 1915. Failing to pay same on date above named, the City Treasurer is required by law to impose a penalty of 10% and collect interest on delinquency from date due to date paid. He has no discretion in the matter, and will follow the exact letter of the law. Should any Assessment remain unpaid December 1, 1915, the law requires him to certify the amount due to the County Auditor, and it becomes his duty to place the property, against which the assessment due is delinquent, on the Delinquent Tax List, and sell the property as other property is sold for delinquent taxes. Should this occur there will be additional costs added to the amount due. You will, therefore, find it to your financial advantage to make payment of such assessment ON or BEFORE NOVEMBER 1st, 1915. Under an amendment to the Barrett Law, passed by the 1915 Legislature you are permitted to pay off the remaining installments of Principal by paying six months interest in advance, thereby saving the amount of interest that would be collected on deferred payments in the regular way.

SCHOOL REALLY NEEDED BIG FIRE

Troy, N. Y., System is Reorganized Along Gary Plan Since Blaze Destroyed a Building.

BEST THING COULD HAPPEN

New Idea Imbues School Authorities and They Hope to Make Schools of Value Year Around.

(By United Press.)
Troy, N. Y., August 25.—It seems that what the city school system of Troy needed was a fire. Since the fire that destroyed one of the grammar schools December 23 there has been a great improvement and that not by reason of building a new and better building, either, but by reorganizing the school work of the city on the Gary plan.

The day before the fire, William Wirt, head of the Gary scholols, had been one of a group of distinguished educators conferring with Supt. Eldred and Dr. William Chandler Smith wired for him to come back. He said, under the Gary plan, he could make for the 500 children of the burned grammar school in the big central school building—already thought to be used to capacity.

"When the term opened," said Dr. Smith, "we had in the Central School, not 800 regular pupils and a few hundred part time and evening students, but nearly 1400 day students. Moreover, under the Wirt dual system we found we had room for 1800 to 2,000 children, giving them all a full program of work, study and play.

"The wonderful thing about it was the instant economy achieved, the per capita cost of operating was cut almost in two.

"The auditorium, for example, one of the most expensive rooms in the building, had formerly been in use for about thirty minutes a day. The rest of the time it was empty, unproductive, earning nothing. Now it was hive of industry all day long. Before the shops and the domestic science rooms were used only a few hours a day, now they were in constant use.

"It was the same with the gymnasium and the playground, all other departments, before working half time, now earning their living every minute of the day. Talk of efficiency, that building spells efficiency from basement to roof. It is an object lesson to the town.

"We employ no more teachers than before, nor do we work them any harder than before. We transferred several of the classroom teachers to auditorium and gymnasium service, and we assigned other teachers to special classes."

"How did the teachers like the new plan? Coming so suddenly, it would not be strange if some of themselves."

Dr. Smith smiled. "They thought it was going to be difficult," he replied. "You know what the regents examinations are, and how teachers begin to brace themselves for it along the first of the year. For a few days after the change was made I used to hear teachers exclaiming, 'What shall we do about the examination?' I shall never get my children ready, in all this confusion. I know they'll all fail.

"Well, curiously enough, when the examinations were over it was found that more children had passed than had passed before in those two schools. It was a remarkable record they made. Hardly anybody failed. The fact is, the children were so stimulated by the new life of the school, they were so inspired by the richness of the school programme, and the freedom of the new system of administration, that they found it easy to study."

"They didn't find freedom demoralizing then?"

"Demoralizing? That depends on what you call demoralization. Sometimes teachers visiting the school express horror at the noise in the halls between classes. But I say to them that there is nothing in a certain amount of noise in a school building, provided the noise is made at the right time.

"Just now, I tell them, there is no school here. For five minutes the business of the children is to change classes. While they are doing that I want them to relax. I want them to talk. I want them to stop on their way, and I have a bulletins of every sort pinned to the walls at intervals to catch their attention. That kind of thing quickens intelligence, frees the mind and creates initiative.

"We hope, at least, that we can make all our school buildings serve the children, not a few hours a day, nine months in the year, but all the time. The children deserve this much. I am certain, that the school shall be open to their needs at any time of their awaking life.

Danger Signals of Tuberculosis

In a previous article it was stated that nearly everybody has tuberculosis at some time or other during his lifetime. Autopsies on people have shown that hardly a single human being reaches mature life without a scar on his lungs or elsewhere showing where tuberculosis had attacked him, and he, by his normal resistance and vitality, had warded off the continuance of the attack.

Because tuberculosis is so widespread, every man woman and child should give the most careful attention to those signs of the disease which point out danger. The treacherous disease germs may enter the body in early childhood and may not cause any serious trouble for ten or fifteen years. Then, all of a sudden when the body is weakened by overwork, worry, sickness, or bad living and working conditions these sleeping germs wake up and become active in the destruction of the lungs or other organs. The working man or woman, therefore cannot be too careful in safeguarding of the health and in watching out for those symptoms which indicate that the disease of tuberculosis is actually present. What, then, are some of the danger signals and what should be done about them?

(1) First of all, there is a cough that hangs on and will not clear up. If it lasts for a month or longer, it is a red light, a danger signal, which you cannot afford to ignore. It may start with wet feet or some other insignificant circumstance, but no matter how the cough started if it does not go away, see your doctor at once. Colds frequently weaken the bodily tone and resistance, so that it is easy for the lurking germs to get a foothold.

(2) Loss of weight, accompanied by a loss of appetite, and a certain amount of "stomach trouble" is another danger signal, which you must not pass unheeded. Sometimes loss of weight may come from some other cause than tuberculosis, but it pays to be on your guard. You may not have a cough, and you may experience very little trouble except a sort of chronic weariness. You ought to know what your normal weight should be. If you begin to lose five, ten or more pounds without any apparent reason, look for sound medical advice at once. Sometimes with loss of weight goes a loss of appetite, and trouble with bowels and stomach, even running to diarrhea. Whether you are losing much weight or not, look out for this danger signal. It is warning that something is wrong.

(3) Then there is that run-down, all-the-time-tired feeling. Most people have days when they feel unusually tired, for some reason or other. Such an occasional period of

"spring fever" or "lazy liver" may not be at all dangerous, but when every day for two or three weeks you hate to get up and dread to do anything but lie around and be lazy there is danger ahead. This is Nature's warning to you that some enemy inside your body is sapping your vitality. Don't ignore the warning signal!

(4) Anyone of three symptoms just mentioned may occur singly or all of them may come at one time. When, to any or all, there is added fever in the late afternoon or during the night, accompanied possibly by sweats, beware of this danger signal. It is a bright red flag which Nature waves before you cautioning you to give immediate heed. Anyone's temperature may rise at times, some people's more easily than others. But when for a week every afternoon about four or five o'clock you wake up in dripping sweat, you may rest assured that there is nothing normal about that. Go to your doctor at once and tell him about it. You may have no cough and no other sign of disease, and this may be the only warning you'll get. Give heed to it at once.

(5) If you have a cough and in spitting you find streaks of blood in your sputum, you may rest assured that something is wrong. It may be a direct sign of tuberculosis, but whatever it is, you should attend to it at once. You cannot afford to waste time putting it off. Nature may give you that more emphatic warning of the presence of tuberculosis, a hemorrhage of the lungs. If so don't be scared unduly. It is a danger signal, and if you heed it, you may be safe.

There are other danger signals, some which you can see and some which only a trained physician can detect. Your safety lies in getting medical attention as early as possible. Tuberculosis can be cured if it is discovered in time. The time to discover it is when the first symptoms show themselves. Don't take chances with Death. You'll lose every time.

Go to a good doctor, if you notice any of these danger signals, and insist that he examine you stripped to the waist. If you can't afford a doctor, go to a free clinic and be examined. It may cost a few dollars to be examined, but it may save you hundreds of dollars, untold suffering and possibly your life and that of your wife and family.

"Safety First" is a motto that applies to tuberculosis, especially when it is first showing itself.

We invite you this week to our Advance Autumn Display of Wooltex Coats, Suits, Skirts

America's greatest organization of fashion designers assures the style correctness of these garments. The Wooltex Bureau of Fashions in Paris, with Madame Savarie as its director, has been maintained despite the great war.

HERE ARE THE STYLE FEATURES TO LOOK FOR IN YOUR NEW FALL SUIT OR COAT

Natural figure lines are most stylish. Not tightly fitted, but with the graceful curves of the natural figure.

Jackets are made semi-fitting or loosely belted to give modish lines. Many have the smart flare below waist. Jackets are hip length or long.

Skirts have rolling pleats or flat pleats on the sides to give fullness.

Coats neer were prettier. Two distinct modes are correct — semi-fitted and loose.

The semi-fitted models are most prominent. They are not tight, but have graceful curves that make good figures better looking and help poor figures.

The loosefitted models are also popular. They give modish lines, while some very stylish models in fine coats hang loose from the shoulders.

Come in this week. See the new style features, how becoming they are. Try on a few. Get acquainted with the new styles, even if you are not yet ready to buy.

BLUE RIDGE MAN IS QUESTIONED

Thurman Connor, Occupant of Automobile When Edward Ranek Was Killed, Examined.

HIS MEMORY IS VERY HAZY

Thurman Connor, of Blue Ridge, who was in the automobile that turned over in Indianapolis Monday and caused the death of Edward Ranek of Blue Ridge, was examined by the Marion county coroner in Indianapolis Tuesday, in an investigation of the accident.

One of the questions to be investigated by the coroner is whether any of the occupants of the Ranek machine were under the influence of liquor when the accident occurred. While the direct cause of the accident, according to Thurman Connor, one of the injured men, was in an exploring tire, it is possible, Coroner Poole says, that there were other causes for the wrecking of the machine. Connor was arrested, charged with intoxication, and gave his testimony to Coroner Poole.

Connor did not seem to remember much of what occurred before and during the accident. He was asked whether Ranek was under the influence of liquor and asserted he did not know. He was asked whether Ranek took any drinks on the road to Indianapolis and said he did not know. Connor said he took one drink while riding with Ranek. Connor said he did not know the speed of the car.

SYMPATHIZER OF GERMANS KILLED

Strong Expressions of Sentiment by Rev. Edmund Kayser Believed Tragedy Cause

SLAVS AT GARY ARE BLAMED

Number of Threatening Letters Received by Him Thought to Have Been Written by Same Person.

(By United Press.)

Gary, Ind., Aug. 25.—Feeling in Gary was at high tension today over the murder late last night of the Rev. Edmund Kayser, pastor of the St. James Evangelical Lutheran church, who had, since the European war began, strongly championed the German cause and many times publically denounced the allies.

Chief of Police Reintz was today certain that the murder was an act of revenge on the part of some of the many Slav workers in the steel mills.

Bloodhounds were brought here today to aid in the hunt for the band of murderers. The ground for two hundred yards about the Kayser home was roped off before daybreak, so the morbidly curious would not destroy the scent of the men who killed the minister.

The Rev. Mr. Kayser had been receiving threatening letters ever since he first began to preach the Tueton cause as well as the gospel. He professed no fear.

"Move away or dynamite will move," read one. Another read: "Before the leaves turn, you will be stretched on the ground."

The police said today almost all of the letters were written by one person and in German. It is through a peculiarity in the handwriting that they hope to trace the murderer.

The minister's body was found in a clump of bushes near his home. There was a bullet wound in the shoulder and another in the neck where an artery had been severed. Certain chords were tightly tied about the neck and right wrist. Physicians today said the neck wound caused death.

FAIR MOVED UP A DAY BY BOARD

Because First Day Was Spoiled by Rain, There Will be an Extra Day's Attraction.

RACES ADVANCED A DAY

Other Program Will be Carried Out as Previously Announced, However—Fireworks Tonight.

The Rush county fair has been moved up a day because the first day's program could not be given, which means that there will be fair on Saturday.

The fair board reached this decision this morning when it announced that Tuesday's race program would be run today and today's program Wednesday, thus moving up each day's racing so that Friday's races will be held on Saturday. The board is anxious to run off all the races this year because of the high quality and large number of horses here.

The awards will be made in show classes as scheduled, there being no change made in that respect. This means that the big parade of premium stock will take place Friday as usual.

The night fair tonight will be the same as that advertised for Tuesday night. There will be a display of fireworks and other attractions.

The crowds began going this afternoon and there were indications that the crowd would be above normal for Wednesday. The rains of yesterday made threshing impossible and it was thought that many farmers would come today for that reason.

Although the track was a bit slow, it was not in as bad condition as fair officials feared it would be because of the heavy rains of Tuesday. There was some hot competition expected in the 2:15 class, pacing, this afternoon, as it is the first of the four races for purses of five hundred dollars.

It was also announced by the fair board that all family tickets and other special tickets issued for the week would be good on the added day of the fair.

Although the clouds flirted with the sun most of the day, there was no rain and the grounds dried off rapidly. The weather man promised a continuation of the low temperature and fair weather.

The free attractions consisting of high dives daily in front of the grandstand and a concert each morning at eleven o'clock and one in the evening at eight will be held as advertised.

The Rev. J. R. Stanton has been returned as pastor of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church by the Indiana conference of the church which closed its sessions in Jonesboro Monday.

Make the Dealer Test

Mr. Manufacturer you are frequently told that this or that kind of advertising will interest or influence local dealers.

That is something very essential to the sale of your product. You are wise in seeking it. But why not consult the dealer on the subject?

Ask one hundred dealers what kind of advertising they prefer and ninety-five per cent will answer advertising in the newspapers of their own city.

This newspaper advertising influences them because it cre-

OPENS ADVANCE POSITIONS

British Order Placing Cotton on Contraband Arrives.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, August 25.—General Mackensen has broken through the advance positions of Brest Litovsk. One wing of Mackensen's army is approaching the western bank of the Mesna. North of Brest Litovsk the Bavarians are continuing the movement to envelop the fortress. In the north the armies under Generals Von Hindenberg, Von Gallwitz and Von Scholtz are hurling the Slavs back upon a line extending southward from Vilna.

ONE ADMITS GUILT; TWO NOT GUILTY

Jesse Sorrell, Elmer Hendricks and Harry Rainey in Jail Result of Fight

STAGED AT FAIR GROUNDS

A drunken fight at the fair grounds Tuesday night landed Harry Rainey, Jesse Sorrell and Elmer Hendricks in jail. Rainey pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication this morning before Mayor Bobout and was fined $5 and costs. The other two men were charged with intoxication and assault and battery. Both entered pleas of not guilty and were sent back to jail to await their trial, set for tonight at seven-thirty o'clock.

Just what the fight started over is not known. It was stated this morning that the men had some trouble with a owner of a stand. The man is colored, but the police did not learn his name. Sheriff Cavitt was called to the grounds when it was learned that the police there were unable to handle the situation. Hendricks received a bad cut on the forehead and the services of a physician were required when he was taken to the county jail.

POSTOFFICE AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Mail is Accepted and Delivered From the Office Where Parcels Post Display is Made.

IN AGRICULTURAL HALL

There is a full fledged postoffice in operation at the fair grounds in connection with the parcels post display arranged by Postmaster G. P. Hunt and his assistants. When it was first decided to make an exhibit to interest mail patrons in parcels post, at the suggestion of the department at Washington, it was announced that no postoffice would be run in connection, but plans were later changed and mail is being accepted and delivered at the fair grounds office.

The postoffice is located in agricultural hall. Persons on the fair grounds have been informed of the convenience arranged for them and they all take their mail there and do not have to go to the trouble of bringing it to Rushville. All mail for the fair grounds is taken to the postoffice there and held until called for. The display of parcels post will interest many people, it is believed. Stamps and postal cards are also on sale at the fair grounds office.

TAX LEVY LEFT SAME FOR 1916

Some Changes Are Made, However, in Distribution of Funds, More Money Going to General Fund.

GIVES CHANCE FOR OILING

Library Board Asks For One Cent More and it is Granted—Fire Department Gets $500

The tax levy for the year 1916 remains at $1.15 on each $100 of taxable. All efforts to create interest in the proposition to change the levy fell flat and the city council at the special meeting Tuesday night voted unanimously to fix the levy at $1.15.

Some changes were made, however, in the distribution of the levy among the various funds. The tax levy of $1.15 was divided as follows: ninety-six cents for the general fund; thirteen cents for the payment of bonded indebtedness and six cents for the library.

The levy last year was divided as follows: general fund, seventy-six cents; bonded indebtedness thirty-four cents and library tax five cents.

The library board asked for an additional appropriation of one cent this year and as the law provides that the library can ask up to ten cents there was nothing for the council to do but grant the increase. Twenty cents additional in the general fund for the year 1916 may mean that the city can oil the streets out of this fund although the matter was not mentioned last night. The coming year the city will have less bonds and interest to pay. A cut of twenty-one cents was made in this levy and twenty cents of this amount was placed in the general fund and the additional one cent was given to the library.

In the appropriation ordinance a few changes were made over last year. An additional $500 was given to the fire department. The appropriations as compared to last year are as follows:

	1915	1916
Salaries	$ 4,889	$ 4,880
Fire department	3,500	4,000
Water and Light	24,000	24,000
Street department	7,000	7,000
Board of Health	300	500
Sewer contract	7.50	7.50
Bond indebtedness and interest	10,077.36	3,700
Street and sidewalk intersections	500	2,500
Miscellaneous	250	250
Express and postage	150	150
Clerk's supplies	100	100
Treasurer's supplies	100	100
Mayor's office	150	150
Department of law	300	300
Special judge	50	50

The preliminary assessment role for the paving of West Second street was approved and remonstrators will be given a hearing on October 5. The total cost of the improvements in the Stewart Tompkins additions were adopted and remonstrances will be heard on September 10.

DELEGATES ARE ARRIVING TODAY

Over Half Hundred Registered For Kappa Alpha Phi Convention During the Morning.

CANDIDATES ADVERTISING

Each Comes With an Arm Full of Placards Advancing Their Various Claims For Office.

With fifty delegates registered at noon today, the fourteenth annual national convention of the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity got under way. The start was auspicious and the prospects for the best convention the fraternity ever had are very bright.

The first event of the convention is scheduled for tonight when the reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Capp. Following the reception the visitors will dance at the Elks pavilion at the fair grounds. The visitors were coming into the city all afternoon and by evening the visiting delegations were expected to reach the hundred mark.

The headquarters at the Windsor were crowded all day where the delegates register. As was predicted, fraternity politics promises to be one of the most interesting things of the entire convention.

Candidates for offices in the fraternity started an active campaign just as soon as they reached the city. The first of the candidates to arrive was G. Walter Ratcliffe, of Newcastle, who wants to be vice-president. A delegation of boosters from Newcastle arrived here with Ratcliffe and they at once proceeded to plaster up the town with posters, "Rats for Vice-president."

Along with Ratcliffe came Monk Purviance of Huntington, who seeks to be elected to the office of secretary. Purviance is endorsed by Pat McCarty, also of Huntington, who first announced he would run for this office. McCarty withdrew from the race and endorsed Purviance. Purviance also has his posters and he is as widely advertised as Ratcliffe.

Clyde Snody of Bloomington has announced that he will be a candidate for recorder. Bloomington also has another candidate. Glenn B. Woodward is out for treasurer. The fight for the next convention is expected to be between Bloomington and Greensburg, with Bloomington the favorite in the betting.

The Greensburg delegation boosting for Ernest Erdmann for president was expected here this evening. The fight for president is expected to be between Kenneth Sullivan of Alexandria and Erdmann.

The first business session of the convention will be held tomorrow morning in the assembly room of the court house. The annual dance will take place Thursday night at the Social club and the convention will end with the banquet Friday night at the Windsor.

Germany Says Warships, Cruisers And Torpedo Boats Were Not Sunk in Gulf of Riga

PROBABLY SUNK PURPOSELY

(By United Press.)
Berlin, Aug. 25.—Russian claims that the German dreadnaught Moltke, two cruisers and eight torpedo boats were sunk in a battle in the Gulf of Riga, were declared to be without foundation, in an official statement issued by the admiralty today.

The admiralty stated that the "German warships" mentioned probably were some old vessels sunk by the Germans themselves to barricade the entrance to the gulf and bottle up the Russian squadron. Some of these vessels had previously been captured from the Russians, the statement said.

"Neither a large ship or any German cruisers was sunk or damaged," continued the admiralty. "We silenced land batteries near Pernau."

M. L. M'BRIDE IS DEAD AT MAYS HOME

President of Mays National Bank Expires Today of Cancer Following prolonged illness.

FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING

Matthew L. McBride, 65 years old, a widely known resident of Center township and president of the Mays bank, died this morning at 1:30 o'clock, following an illness of several months from cancer. Mr. McBride recently underwent an operation in Indianapolis, but it failed to improve his condition and since that time he had been in a critical condition.

Mr. McBride was a native of Henry county. He was born February 7, 1850, at Ogden. He received his education at the Center school and on October 16, 1879, he was married to Mary B. Gilson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Washington Gilson. Mr. McBride was a successful farmer and business man and when the Mays bank was organized he was selected as president of the institution.

Mr. McBride is survived by his widow, three brothers, Will M. McBride of this city, Charley McBride of Mays and Frank McBride, four sisters, Mrs. Marshall Reeves of Columbus, Mrs. Jefferson Reeves of near this city, Mrs. Maria Fry of Texas, and Mrs. Samuel Cohee of Mays.

The funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Center church and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

DEPICTS LIFE IN THE TRENCHES

Dolph Ryan, Son of the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Ryan of Glenwood, is Driving Ambulance in France.

HAS BEEN THERE SINCE JUNE

Sees Suffering at First Hand as Maimed Soldiers Are Mauled to Hospitals Near the Lines.

The Rev. Daniel Ryan, pastor of the Glenwood M. E. church, is in receipt of a letter from his son, Dolph Ryan, who has been at the war front in France since June as the driver of an American Red Cross ambulance.

He describes some of the horrors of trench life, having had opportunity to observe it. He drives his car within two hundred yards of the trenches to receive the wounded and haul them to emergency hospitals and later to central hospitals in the larger towns of France.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ryan did not know their son was going to the front until after he was aboard a vessel on the way over. He arrived in France June 22 and is now stationed near Dunkirk.

"This war is an awful thing," he writes. "Father has been through it. He knows what it means. Things are different now, to be sure, but just the same men who are not killed outright suffer."

"Because they can't have hospitals up close to the trenches, for they would shell them, so they have to have them away back, and when a poor man is shot, if it is in the daytime, he must be kept in the trenches suffering until nightfall. Then they bring them out and back about two hundred yards and we get them and take them back a mile or so the doctors can fix them without being shot. In a day or two they are taken to Paris or any other town in France where there is a big hospital."

"So you can see how the poor fellows suffer. Some of them die before there is a chance to remove them from the trenches and some die in your car. It is an awful thing—this war, but I am glad to come over here and help what I can."

"They are fighting hard on each side and I sure dread the time when the French and English start to drive the Germans back. All this time the Germans have been making trenches so that in case their men are driven back, and which they surely will, and I hope soon."

"They will poison the water, put powder under the ground and then when the other soldiers are in their old trenches, blow them to pieces. Those Germans will do anything."

"I will send you some good pictures as soon as I can. I came to D— last Saturday and have had a good rest here. I go out again tomorrow and stay out at the trenches for thirty days. Then you come for a little rest for a week. I sleep out in my ambulance and eat outdoors all the time, which makes me feel fine, but see some awful sights when I have to carry some of the poor fellows, some of them shot all to pieces. Father knows just how it is. He had four years of it."

In closing Mr. Ryan says that he can not write much, else the letter would never reach its destination. He asks his parents to ask God to "help these poor soldiers who are being killed by the thousands every week."

NOTHING TO DO BUT WAIT ON GERMANY

Official Washington Expects Explanation From Berlin When Latter Gets Report.

IT MAY BE ONE OR TWO WEEKS

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.

Washington, August 25.—"We are waiting" was all government officials had to say today concerning the Arabie case. The United States awaited word from Germany. German many awaited word from her submarine commanders. It was deemed likely that might continue for a week or two.

Secretary Lansing said he couldn't say whether he would answer the German request through Ambassador Bernstorff that the United States suspend judgment until Germany was heard from officially. The outlook was viewed everywhere most optimistically.

PROPOSES NOT TO OIL A SECOND TIME

Walter Reinheimer, Contractor, Says
it Can Not be Put on if Wet Weather Continues.

WOULD SAVE $400 FOR PEOPLE

If the rains continue during the next few weeks as they have in the past, the taxpayers of the city may save some money on the street oiling this year, as it will be practically impossible to give the streets the second coat of oil as provided in the contract.

Walter Reinheimer, the contractor, appeared before the council Tuesday night with a proposition that the second coat not be placed on the streets and that the money thus saved be pro-rated back to the taxpayers. No action was taken as the council desired to see how the weather man performed in the next few weeks.

It was stated that the second coat of oil could not be placed on the streets with continued wet weather. The cost for the second coat would be about $400 and this amount would be taken off the cost to the property owners. Reinheimer wanted the council to think over the proposition as the assessment role must be made up before Nov. 1.

PLAN FOR BANQUET WITHOUT SPEECHES

CONFERENCE IN INDIANAPOLIS

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 25.—The after dinner speech with its musty jokes is too inefficient for those fighting tuberculosis. They prefer the short snappy and to-the-point discussions. They plan a speechless banquet as one of the features of the three day meeting of the Mississippi Valley conference of Tuberculosis, which will come to Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1.

Vice president Marshall is slated as toastmaster, and at the "speakers" tables will be the visiting governors, and other celebrities, including James Whitecomb Riley.

If those at the "speakers" table have a message to deliver, they will have it printed on the menu. All those at the table will be introduced at once by A. W. Jones, Jr., of St. Louis, President of the conference, so that conversation will supplant oratory.

It is estimated by W. D. Thurber, secretary of the conference, that tuberculosis each year in the Mississippi Valley kills 100,000 men, women and children, and that approximately 500,000 victims are infected with the disease. Thurber expects an attendance at the conference of about 1,000.

DISLIKES USE OF BUTTER TRAYS

Government Calls Attention to Fact That They Cost The Nation $5,000,000 Annually

WEIGHED IN WITH THE ORDER

If you have been buying butter that is weighed in one of those small wooden dishes, or lard or sausage or anything else that the dealer places in a wooden receptacle before weighing the same, you have contributed your mite to the $5,000,000 that the consumers of this country pay for such things annually.

The United States government is sending broadcast to superintendents of national, state, municipal and county departments of weights and measures are annually defrauded out of five millions of dollars or more through the sale of wood and paper and wood pulp at the sale price of butter, lards and meats.

Butchers and grocers come in for the greater part of this condemnation by the government. They have the habit, when a consumer asks to buy a pound of butter or of lard, of setting the wooden dish on the scales and then filling it with the merchandise ordered. Of course, the wooden container weighs only a few ounces but the aggregate weight of the few ounces all over the country amounts to at least five million dollars each year, even by estimating the article sold at a minimum rate.

Who's Going to Pay?

The ordinary expenses of the United States government this fiscal year will amount to $300,000,000. The ordinary expenses of the government during the fiscal year ending June 30 were $232,234,720. The entire revenue of the fiscal year of 1914-1915 was but $685,603,190.42. Therefore, where is that deficit of nearly $105,000,000 coming from?

But that is not the all absorbing question in the minds of Democratic administration leaders just now. President Wilson has several ideas which he will present to Congress and which will involve the expenditure of more millions. Men who have been in close touch with the situation say there will be no other solution to the Democratic dilemma, which is due to a bad domestic policy and mismanagement, but a bond issue.

The President's pet schemes will require about $500,000,000. For new battle ships $50,000,000; submarines, $20,000,000; airships, $5,000,000; coast defenses, $80,000,000; rural credits, $50,000,000; purchase of ships for merchant marine, $50,000,000; increase of the army, $150,000,000; sop to Colombia, $25,000,000; and to these $50,000,000 must be added for the Alaskan railroad. The cost of operating the parcels post will run up into millions over its receipts.

The deficit in ordinary expenses of $105,000,000, together with the $500,000,000, which it is calculated the president's schemes will cost, bring the grand total up to $605,000,000.

On the other hand the emergency or "war tax" empires by limitation December next. That and the corporation and income taxes have all been paid in, and not much more can be expected from those sources until next June if they are received. Receipts from customs, duties are rapidly decreasing, and the same is true of the ordinary revenues from tobacco and spirits. To meet the current expenses alone an increase of more than $150,000,000 in the revenue must be provided. This will puzzle the Democrats in the House and Senate, without counting the trouble they will have in making up a sufficiency to meet the extra demands the President will make.

Wood Alcohol—Poison!

Despite unceasing endeavor to prohibit the sale of wood alcohol, this poisonous article is still used in the manufacture of quack medicines, hair-tonics, cheap whiskey, essences etc., and every now and then some innocent person is killed or made blind from its effects according to the Journal of the American Medical Association. Recently three persons died and two others were made completely blind from drinking a cordial made partly of wood alcohol. It is not generally known that poisonous symptoms follow its external application, as well as from taking it into the stomach. Thus rubbing the body with it after Turkish or other baths, burning it in "alcohol lamps" using it for varnishing pianos, beer-vats, small rooms, etc., may induce slow and often unsuspected but serious damage to the digestion, sight and nervous system. The manufacturers of wood alcohol have succeeded in removing the unpleasant odor and taste, disguising it in this way to facilitate its sale; but its poisonous properties are still there, and this "deodorized" alcohol under whatever name it may be called should not be purchased for domestic use. It should be the self imposed duty of every citizen not only to abstain from using the poison himself, but to use his influence in bringing about a law to stop its manufacture and sale. All preparations containing this ingredient should be put in the list of poisons, and labeled with the skull and cross bones.

Inconsistency Noted.

(Washington, Ind., Herald.) George W. Lott, the Vincennes progressive who is stubbornly determined to continue his part of the annex to the Democratic party, in suing to set aside the Indiana state-wide primary law is an illuminating example of the political reformers who will have no reform unless they may have it entirely their own way. As a leading bull moose, Mr. Lott advocated general primaries. The primary election system was one of the "principles" of the bull moose party. Yet here the first chance the state of Indiana has to make an experiment with general primaries, one of the shouting followers of Mr. Roosevelt is trying to put the law out of commission through act of the courts.

Mr. Lott's objections to the law as it stands may be technically well-founded. He enumerates a great many items that he declares are antagonistic to the provisions and restrictions of the constitution. Perhaps they are. But think of a true bull moose that would let the constitution get in the way of the people and their right to do as they please despite antiquated statutes, obsolete customs and archaic constitutions! Why, Mr. Lott, that is treason, not only to the colonel but to the Honorable Albert Jeremiah!

The state-wide primary law in Indiana probably is unconstitutional. We know it is a jumble of contradictions and absurdities. It not only is unconstitutional, but it includes the theory upon which it is founded, like-wise is an impeachment of common sense. Nevertheless, it has the vital quality of a general primary law, the bestowing upon the people of the people of the power to make their nominations for office without the intervention of conventions. The law is not ideal, from the point of view of the radical advocates of the primary election theory, but it does give the voters the right to vote direct for the aspirants for nominations.

Mr. Lott's objections to this law, therefore, are inconsequential. The restrictions of which he complains do not defeat the main purpose of the law. It is a poor law, but it is sufficiently clear and comprehensive enough to give the people of Indiana a chance to test out the state-wide primary plan of making nominations. Then if the system appears to them as a feasible method of choosing their nominees, it will be an easy matter to amend the law in the next legislature and relieve it of its objectionable features.

If Mr. Lott, as a believer in primary elections, were honest with himself, he never would have filed this suit. At its worst, which is saying a great deal, it at least holds in it the essential element of the primary slogan. Except in the matter of choosing a half-dozen or so of an important state administrative officers, it eliminates delegates nominating conventions and thereby destroys representative party government, which is the first and the chief purpose of the general primary.

Jerry Sullivan Refuses to Give up Brother's Job And Roy Snyder Also Claims It

PETITION BEARS 82 NAMES

A nice mix-up is promised among the merchants over who is to be nightwatchman. Tuesday night two men were on the job. Jerry Sullivan, brother of the late Frank Sullivan, who held the position refuses to give up the job, claiming that he holds it for the estate of his brother. Roy Snyder presented a petition to Mayor Bebout containing the names of 82 merchants, stating that they desired Snyder to have the position.

Mayor Bebout believed this constituted the majority and gave Snyder the necessary police powers. The nightwatchman is employed by the merchants and all the city can do is to give the man thus employed the necessary police powers. It is claimed that the late Frank Sullivan paid $400 for the position and this is the amount demanded by the Sullivans. It is understood that Snyder is ready to pay the price, but they do not seem disposed to give him the position being inclined, it is stated, to give it to someone whom they may name.

Snyder will continue on duty and it is supposed that Sullivan will also make the rounds. Jerry Sullivan has no police powers. Jerry now claims to want the position for himself and states that the merchants have never given him his release by asking for the keys. It is understood that he will continue to work until relieved by the merchants.

The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful, says a well-known physician, is to keep the liver and bowels in normal, active condition. Without these remedies, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints, the nervous system, etc., etc., eventually causing skin eruptions, pimples, blotches, and sallow complexion.

But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing any after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable calomel" because of its effectiveness, although it is not to be confused with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "santal tablets," that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal system, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Santal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize the difference. It is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick-acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unhappily eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels, and a putrid blood. The consequence is that the skin is covered with eruptions. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, they would use a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick-acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santal tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit wherever it is used, with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Santal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "catarrhic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for their popularity of santal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the "santal" remedy for constipation, liver, and bowels, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found. —Druggists Review.

MAY CONTROL SCHOOL EXCUSES

State Board of Truancy Has Right to Lay Down Rules Regarding Tardiness and Absences.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS SO

May Compel Parents or Guardians to Furnish Children With Books or Make Showing.

Richard M. Milburn, attorney-general, has given an opinion to Amos W. Butler, secretary of the new state board of truancy, in which it is declared the board has the right to prescribe rules governing the excuse of children who are tardy or absent from schools in the state. Written excuses from parents, guardians or custodians of the children may be required by such rules, the opinion said.

The opinion also gave the board the right to interpret the word "attendance" as used in the law creating the board, by saying that the board may either require parents or guardians of children to supply them with proper school books or may compel the parents to make such showing to the township that books will be supplied the children. In the past some parents neither would give proper books to their children nor make a showing of poverty to the township, on which the trustee could provide adequate school books.

The attorney-general gave an opinion to Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, in which it was asserted that where school corporations turn over their holdings to townships, the township trustee must fulfill all contracts made by such school corporations, such as those hiring teachers in the schools. Unless such contracts are fulfilled, the transfer of the children and the schools is not legal, the opinion said, in effect.

In another opinion to Greathouse, who is a member of the new board which administers the new law relating to the state teachers' pension funds, the attorney-general said the new law provides for cities taking advantage of the state law and turning over all money or property owned by the local pension fund to the state fund. Objection had been made to this by local pension corporations, the attorney-general said, but he pointed out that the law creating the state pension scheme provides for the taking over of local funds and also that annuities and benefits, paid under the local funds, likewise shall be paid from the state funds. The rates of assessment also probably will be lower under the state pension scheme, the attorney-general pointed out, so that the beneficiaries of the local pension systems which come under the state scheme will not lose thereby.

Although the new law provides that no payments shall be made from the state pension fund until after January 1, 1917, the attorney-general said that annuities or benefits being paid in local pension schemes would continue without interruption if the local schemes took advantage of the state law's provisions.

THINK ENGLISH ARE SHIRKING

French Are Bold in Saying That England is Not Doing All She Can in The War

ADMIT POWER OF HER FLEET

But Call Attention to Fact That She is Holding Only 30 Miles of Front—French Hold 500.

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, Aug. 6 (By Mail).—Everybody in France knows it, so why try to keep it a secret; France is not at all satisfied with what England has done and is doing in this war, and Englishmen in France, soldiers as well as sojourner's admit France is right.

And now come stories by private conveyance from Great Britain that London is being fortified with a couple of rows of defenses running entirely around the city; that the English are saying "one never can tell what will happen," that they admit lack of ammunition and will continue to lack it even under best possible conditions for some months to come; that if the Germans make a dash for Calais and the other Channel ports with forces such as she is using around Warsaw, there will be no stopping them at present.

What do all these stories mean? The French are asking. What is the matter with England after more than a year of war? Why can't she with all her steel mills and kindred works, turn out much more than sufficient ammunition, enough, in fact, to supply her allies?

"Strikes have hampered us," Englishmen in France give as an excuse for many of these questions.

"Why tolerate strikes?" the French ask impatiently, "when the life of England hangs in the balance with our own and that of several other countries perhaps as well?"

Now, with fall almost at hand, England is still holding with great effort at that, her little 30 miles of front. The French hold 500 miles. In the 11 months of trench-fighting this proportion has not changed and many has been the time when French artillery has been called upon to support the British even along their short front.

Gabriel Hanotaux, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, a historian and unusually calm thinker, has said.

"From England there have come illusionary catchwords on which we have lived for months and which after benefitting us for a moment, have ended by doing us harm—Was is not Lord Kitchener who evolved that formula so pregnant with hope but so tardy in delivery: 'Our forces will continue to expand unceasingly while those of the enemy will unceasingly diminish.'"

Hanotaux did not express this criticism of England in private, or behind England's back. He said it in print, to England's face. Nor is that all he said. "The English Ministers were prodigal of magnificent phrases," he writes, "but their workshops were idle."

I asked an Englishman why England still held only her 30-mile front why Kitchener's promise of more and more and still more soldiers has not been made good. His reply, in effect, was that Kitchener himself had made good his promise. He had raised the soldiers.

"There are three million soldiers or thereabouts in England," he said. "But they are equipped with wooden guns."

So admitted my English friend. "There are men a plenty," he went on, "but they lack belts, knapsacks and the like. And of the thousands and thousands of recruits one sees drilling around London daily, very few have rifles. They are using the sticks used before the war in Ulster with other imitations made since."

The French wholeheartedly admit that England furnished the broom which was largely instrumental in sweeping German ships and German commerce from the seas. "But French ships have not been idle either," they declare. "We have

kept the Austrian fleet cooped up all winter and we have done all we could with the fleet in other directions. All we ask: Has England like ourselves, done all she is able to do? No doubt France and England will stand together without faltering right on through to the end, but now there is no doubt about it; more than at any time since hostilities commenced, France is inclined to ask England to get a move on, to quit squabbling at home and get into the fight. For every hour the war is prolonged means many lives snapped off.

Not the least part of the resentment in France is caused by British insularity, in England, Georges Clemenceau, the former Prime Minister, writes, "After all Calais is only Calais." Calais is in France a foreign country. The measures taken around London are an admission that Calais and Boulogne may fall into German hands. The French feel that if England does her duty the thing won't happen.

So the French not only think, but speak. Note—Simms sent a copy of the above to Ed L. Keen, London correspondent. Tomorrow Keen's statement of the British reply.

SCHOOL REALLY NEEDED BIG FIRE

Troy, N. Y., System is Reorganized Along Gary Plan Since State Destroyed a Building

BEST THING COULD HAPPEN

New Idea Imbues School Authorities and They Hope to Make Schools of Value Year Around.

(By United Press.)
Troy, N. Y., August 25.—It seems that what the city school system of Troy needed was a fire. Since the fire that destroyed one of the grammar schools December 23 there has been a great improvement and that not by reason of building a new and better building, either, but by reorganizing the school work of the city on the Gary plan.

The day before the fire, William Wirt, head of the Gary schools, had been one of a group of distinguished educators conferring with Supt. El-dred and Dr. William Chandler Smith wired for him to come back. He said, under the Gary plan, he could make for the 500 children of the burned grammar school in the central school building—already thought to be used to capacity.

"When the term opened," said Dr. Smith, "we had in the Central School, not 800 regular pupils and a few hundred part time and evening students, but nearly 1400 day students. Moreover, under the Wirt dual system we found we had room for 1800 to 2,000 children, giving them all a full program of work, study and play.

"The wonderful thing about it was the instant economy achieved, the per capita cost of operating was out almost in two.

"The auditorium, for example, one of the most expensive rooms in the building, had formerly been in use for about thirty minutes a day. The rest of the time it was empty, unproductive, earning nothing. Now it was alive of industry all day long. Before the shops and the domestic science rooms were used, only a few hours a day, now they were in constant use.

"It was the same with the gymnasium and the playground, all other departments, before working half time, now earning their living every minute of the day. Talk of efficiency, that building spells efficiency from basement to roof. It is an object lesson to the town.

"We employ no more teachers than before, nor do we work them any harder than before. We transferred several of the classroom teachers to auditorium and gymnasium service, and we assigned other teachers to special classes."

"How did the teachers like the new plan? Coming so suddenly, it would not be strange if some of them themselves."

Dr. Smith smiled. "They thought it was going to be difficult," he replied. "You know what the regents examinations are, and how teachers begin to brace themselves for it along the first of the year. For a few days after the change was made I used to hear teachers exclaiming, 'What shall we do about the examination?' I shall never get my children ready, in all this confusion. I know they'll all fail."

"Well, curiously enough, when the examinations were over it was found that more children had passed than had passed before in those two schools. It was a remarkable record they made. Hardly anybody failed. The fact is, the children were so stimulated by the new life of the school, they were so inspired by the richness of the school programme, and the freedom of the new system of administration, that they found it easy to study."

"They didn't find freedom demoralizing then?"

"Demoralizing? That depends on what you call demoralization. Sometimes teachers visiting the school express horror at the noise in the halls between classes. But I say to them that there is nothing in a certain amount of noise in a school building, provided the noise is made at the right time.

"Just now, I tell them, there is no school here. For five minutes the business of the children is to change classes. While they are doing that I want them to relax. I want them to talk. I want them to stop on their way, and I have a bulletin of every sort pinned to the walls at intervals to catch their attention. That kind of thing quickens intelligence, frees the mind and creates initiative.

"We hope, at least, that we can make all our school buildings serve the children, not a few hours a day, nine months in the year, but all the time. The children deserve this much. I am certain, that the school shall be open to their needs at any time of their awaking life.

In a previous article it was stated that nearly everybody has tuberculosis at some time or other during his lifetime. Autopsies on people have shown that hardly a single human being reaches mature life without a scar on his lungs or elsewhere showing where tuberculosis had attacked him, and he, by his normal resistance and vitality, had warded off the continuance of the attack.

Because tuberculosis is so widespread, every man woman and child should give the most careful attention to those signs of the disease which point out danger. The treacherous disease germs may enter the body in early childhood and may not cause any serious trouble for ten or fifteen years. Then, all of a sudden when the body is weakened by overwork, worry, sickness, or bad living and working conditions these sleeping germs wake up and become active in the destruction of the lungs or other organs. The working man or woman, therefore cannot be too careful in safeguarding of the health and in watching out for those symptoms which indicate that the disease of tuberculosis is actually present. What, then, are some of the danger signals and what should be done about them?

(1) First of all, there is a cough that hangs on and will not clear up. If it lasts for a month or longer, it is a red light, a danger signal, which you cannot afford to ignore. It may start with wet feet or some other insignificant circumstance, but no matter how the cough started if it does not go away, see your doctor at once. Colds frequently weaken the bodily tone and resistance, so that it is easy for the lurking germs to get a foothold.

(2) Loss of weight, accompanied by a loss of appetite, and a certain amount of "stomach trouble" is another danger signal, which you must not pass unheeded. Sometimes loss of weight may come from some other cause than tuberculosis, but it pays to be on your guard. You may not have a cough, and you may experience very little trouble except a sort of chronic weariness. You ought to know what your normal weight should be. If you begin to lose five, ten or more pounds without any apparent reason, look for sound medical advice at once. Sometimes with loss of weight goes a loss of appetite, and trouble with bowels and stomach, even running to diarrhea. Whether you are losing much weight or not, look out for this danger signal. It is warning that something is wrong.

(3) Then there is that run-down, all-the-time-tired feeling. Most people have days when they feel unusually tired, for some reason or other. Such an occasional period of

"spring fever" or "lazy liver" may not be at all dangerous, but when every day for two or three weeks you hate to get up and dread to do anything but lie around and be lazy there is danger ahead. This is Nature's warning to you that some enemy inside your body is sapping your vitality. Don't ignore the warning signal!

(4) Anyone of three symptoms just mentioned may occur singly or all of them may come at one time. When, to any or all, there is added fever in the late afternoon or during the night, accompanied possibly by sweats, beware of this danger signal. It is a bright red flag which Nature waves before you cautioning you to give immediate heed. Anyone's temperature may rise at times, some people's more easily than others. But when for a week every afternoon about four or five o'clock you wake up in dripping sweat, you may rest assured that there is nothing normal about that. Go to your doctor at once and tell him about it. You may have no cough and no other sign of disease, and this may be the only warning you'll get. Give heed to it at once.

(5) If you have a cough and in spitting you find streaks of blood in your sputum, you may rest assured that something is wrong. It may be a direct sign of tuberculosis, but whatever it is, you should attend to it at once. You cannot afford to waste time putting it off. Nature may give you that more emphatic warning of the presence of tuberculosis, a hemorrhage of the lungs. If so don't be scared unduly. It is a danger signal, and if you heed it, you may be safe.

There are other danger signals, some which you can see and some which only a trained physician can detect. Your safety lies in getting medical attention as early as possible. Tuberculosis can be cured if it is discovered in time. The time to discover it is when the first symptoms show themselves. Don't take chances with Death. You'll lose every time.

Go to a good doctor, if you notice any of these danger signals, and insist that he examine you stripped to the waist. If you can't afford a doctor, go to a free clinic and be examined. It may cost a few dollars to be examined, but it may save you hundreds of dollars, untold suffering, and possibly your life and that of your wife and family.

"Safety First" is a motto that applies to tuberculosis, especially when it is first showing itself.

(Note—This is the Fourth of a Series of Five Articles Prepared by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, New York City.)

SLAVS AT GARY ARE BLAMED

Number of Threatening Letters Received by Him Thought to Have Been Written by Same Person.

(By United Press.)

Gary, Ind., Aug. 25.—Feeling in Gary was at high tension today over the murder late last night of the Rev. Edmund Kayser, pastor of the St. James Evangelical Lutheran church, who had, since the European war began, strongly championed the German cause and many times publically denounced the allies.

Chief of Police Reintz was today certain that the murder was an act of revenge on the part of some of the many Slav workers in the steel mills.

Bloodhounds were brought here today to aid in the hunt for the band of murderers. The ground for two hundred yards about the Kayser home was roped off before daybreak, so the morbidly curious would not destroy the scent of the men who killed the minister.

The Rev. Mr. Kayser had been receiving threatening letters ever since he first began to preach the Tueton cause as well as the gospel. He professed no fear.

"Move away or dynamite will move," read one. Another read: "Before the leaves turn, you will be stretched on the ground."

The police said today almost all of the letters were written by one person and in German. It is through a peculiarity in the handwriting that they hope to trace the murderer.

The minister's body was found in a clump of bushes near his home. There was a bullet wound in the shoulder and another in the neck where an artery had been severed. Certain chords were tightly tied about the neck and right wrist. Physicians today said the neck wound caused death.

BLUE RIDGE MAN IS QUESTIONED

Thurman Connor, Occupant of Automobile When Edward Ranek Was Killed, Examined.

HIS MEMORY IS VERY HAZY

Thurman Connor, of Blue Ridge, who was in the automobile that turned over in Indianapolis Monday and caused the death of Edward Ranek of Blue Ridge, was examined by the Marion county coroner in Indianapolis Tuesday, in an investigation of the accident.

One of the questions to be investigated by the coroner is whether any of the occupants of the Ranek machine were under the influence of liquor when the accident occurred. While the direct cause of the accident, according to Thurman Connor, one of the injured men, was in an exploring tire, it is possible, Coroner Poole says, that there were other causes for the wrecking of the machine. Connor was arrested, charged with intoxication, and gave his testimony to Coroner Poole.

Connor did not seem to remember much of what occurred before and during the accident. He was asked whether Ranek was under the influence of liquor and asserted he did not know. He was asked whether Ranek took any drinks on the road to Indianapolis and said he did not know. Connor said he took one drink while riding with Ranek. Connor said he did not know the speed of the car.
